

ROCKEFELLER'S SON AIDS POLICE PROBE BY GIVING $20,000

Promises $10,000 More If Needed by New York
Investigators.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Henry Bruce, director of the Bureau of Municipal Research, announces that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had given $20,000 and promised $10,000 more if it should be needed to finance the investigation of the police department.

The investigators employed by the bureau under this contribution are working under the authority of the Curran committee and will make their reports to that committee. It is these investigators who have met with the difficulties described by the Curran committee on their visit to headquarters and the West Fifty-seventh street station on Friday.

Waldo Giving Aid.
Commissioner Waldo's reply to the statements made by the committee investigators Friday is that the Commissioner is making every effort to assist the investigators.

The cross-examination of Mrs. Mary Goode, the chief witness at the police trial of Policeman John J. Skelly, was completed yesterday morning. Mrs. Goode's story was unshaken. She proved more than a match for her cross-examiner and did not waver in her testimony.

Manny Mass, the beer bottler, refused to answer most of the questions put to him by Deputy Commissioner Walsh. Louis Grant, Skelly's lawyer, asked the trial commissioner to consult the Corporation Counsel with a view of asking the Supreme Court to adjudge Mrs. Goode in contempt for refusing to answer questions put to her regarding her real name, her birthplace and the bank with which she does business.

To Determine Power.
Commissioner Walsh said that he would take this motion under consideration, together with the refusal of Mass to answer questions, in an effort to determine the powers of the Commissioner.

Second Deputy Commissioner Dougherty had several of those mentioned as alleged "fences" at the last hearing of the committee in connection with police protection, before him yesterday. He gave out two affidavits contradicting testimony given before the committee.

CHRISTMAS DAY
SHOULD BE FAIR

Weather Bureau Prediction Says
Holiday Will Dodge
Storms.

Christmas day should be fair and clear, if the forecast of the Weather Bureau proves correct. For the rest of the week, however, bad weather is predicted. Two storms are headed toward Washington. The first of these is scheduled for Tuesday and the second for Saturday or Sunday. If they are on time, therefore, Christmas should escape them both and the day should be fair.

There is now one disturbance in the far northwest. It will cross the Mississippi Valley tomorrow and should reach here this evening and the next. It will be a rain storm but conditions may change so as to give us snow that the Capital may enjoy a white Christmas.

The second disturbance will appear in the far west about Wednesday and move eastward, attended by snow and rain. Following this, there will be a period of much colder weather.

Explosion Burns Seven.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 22.—A lamp exploded in the house of Joseph Becker, and Becker, his wife, and five other members of the family were seriously burned. Their home and two other buildings, and a stable were destroyed. Steel mill workers rescued 150 horses and mules.

PROGRESSIVES LIKE CUNO RUDOLPH

No Move, However, Will Be Made to Interfere With District
Commissionership.

According to National Commissioner Frank J. Hogan, of the Progressive party in the District, no concerted movement will be made by the third party men here to get a man on the next board of District Commissioners. Mr. Hogan is favorable to Commissioner Rudolph, and in an interview says his hopes, Rudolph's name will be sent to the senate by President Taft.

President Taft has apparently not made up his mind whether he will appoint to the District Commissionerships, but he is expected to come to a decision soon after returning from Panama.

"Russia for Russians,"
Cry of New League

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 22.—"Russia for the Russians!" is the motto of a movement, the organization plans of which became known today. The members will agitate for laws prohibiting foreigners from the acquisition of property in Russia. The Finns already have been prohibited from owning property near St. Petersburg.

Legally Dead, Asks
Court to Restore Him

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—Charles Baringer walked into court here and asked the court to restore him to life. Baringer disappeared twelve years ago and as nothing was heard from him, his wife went into court and had him declared legally dead so she could get his estate. The court has reversed the decision.

Konig Is Improving.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 22.—The condition of Col. George Konig, who has been confined to his bed at his home here for the last few days with a severe attack of grip, is reported as being improved. He is expected to be up before he will be up, according to Dr. O. Leroy, his physician.

Flinn Sees No Need of Washington Convention

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—Senator William Flinn, Roosevelt leader in Pennsylvania, has cast doubt upon the question of calling a state convention of the Washington party to outline a program for future action in conformity to the rules laid down by Colonel Roosevelt at the Chicago national conference of Progressive party leaders.

Much Hookworm
In Flud County

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 22.—The report of the commission appointed under the terms of the Rockefeller fund, to devise means for the eradication of the hookworm in the mountain districts of Kentucky, has been received here. The report is for Flud county, and shows that, out of 1,700 persons examined, 1,300 were affected. If that rate of infection prevails in the other mountain counties, Kentucky has 20,000 cases of hookworm. It is estimated, in some of the Breathitt county schools every pupil was found a sufferer.
